Red Feather Chairman Kenney Urges All To Give Generously

Arlington Group Aims To Make Brisk, Short Snappy Campaign To Put Arlington Over 100%

"Yes" is unmistakably in the air. Heard every hour of the day on Metropolitan Boston's broadcast, it is emblazoned on TV, in the press, on billboards and in window displays throughout the 48 cities and towns joining in the 15th annual Red Feather campaign.

No misnomer that, it is the confident theme of the 30,000 volunteers who are asking their neighbors to say "Yes" to this once-a-year, basic appeal to keep the doors of all Red Feather services open to the people of this widespread community in 1950.

A brisk, short, snappy campaign is the determined aim of Campaign Chairman Edward B. Hamfy, who believes that people welcome this year's speed up plan in place of the long drawn out drives of other years.

Here in Arlington Chairman Walter T. Kenney and his loyal band of Red Feather volunteers are calling upon their neighbors to give quickly, gladly, generously. They urge all givers to wear their Red Feather proudly and to display it in their windows as a token of the united support the people of Metropolitan Boston are giving to the voluntary health and welfare agencies which serve them and theirs all through the year.

Next Monday (October 24) is the day. It is then that every community is striving to bring in 100 per cent returns at the Dutch treat luncheon at 12:30 p.m. at the Boston City Club. A feature of the program will be the showing of the original movie, "When a Fella Needs a Friend" which was taken in several Red Feather hospitals and social service centers.

"Heroes In Disguise"

From office to office, door to door, go men and women in every city of the land once a year. They are doing the work that nobody likes to do, but that someone has got to do. They are collectors for local community chests. Volunteers. They give, and get nothing for themselves. Already they have given money indefinitely, but now they go further and give their time, which often is scarcer than money.

These workers call on their fellow-citizens to help support their community's Red Feather services from which everybody benefits.

Back behind the scenes are the social workers for the member Red Feather services. They, too, are giving much. Their work is exacting and never-ending, the pay modest compared to that of other professions. Most could make more money in other work, but they stick to the social work because of their zeal for serving people. The community chest is a typically American product. We didn't get it from the Old World; we made it for ourselves. It is as purely American as hot dogs and apple pie.

For one thing it is efficient. It costs less to collect money this way, and it cost less to administer. The administration cost of the average community chest is only 7 cents for every dollar. That's a bargain.

Sure, it's a bother. No one actually enjoys either soliciting or being solicited. But it's less of a bother than if dozens of local worthy causes were out for themselves and on your neck throughout a whole blessed year. The workers who solicit you aren't exactly having a good time either, but at least he (or she) is saving you the bother of dealing with dozens of others. That makes it a time saver and a money saver.

Take your hat off and bow low to the community chest workers who are doing the work that you don't like to do. They are heroes in disguise.

"A Pat On The Back!"

The selling value of advertising in newspapers has been again emphasized in the report issued for the month of August, which show that newspaper advertising increased five per cent over a year ago, and magazine advertising jumped only by one per cent.

These were the only advertising media to show gains, as radio advertising fell off fourteen per cent, and business papers, four per cent, while outdoor advertising remained the same.

More and more all kinds of business and industry are relying upon newspapers to get their messages to the public. They have learned from experience that it is by keeping their products consistently in the public mind that results are obtained.

And the newspaper alone can give them that opportunity, because the newspapers are carried into the homes daily and perused by the entire family.

Fine Arts Program Plans Expansion

This week Mrs. Hector MacNeil, Director of the Fine Arts Program announced the three outstanding presentations which will be offered to Arlington school youngsters in the 1949-1950 series.

This project is sponsored by the Arlington Council of Parent-Teacher Associations and has as its purpose the cultural education of our boys and girls. Mrs. Frank L. Lincoln is chairman of this worthwhile undertaking.

The Fine Arts Committee deeply appreciates the many Arlington merchants, organizations, clubs and individuals who, realizing the value of this type of entertainment for our youth, have contributed generously to this unusual project.

The first program will be a Shakespearean play, "A Midsummer Night's Dream," by the Tributary Theatre Players of Boston, under the direction of the well-known Eliot Duvey. There will be three performances of this production at Robbins Memorial hall.

The first on Friday evening, October 28th at 7:30 and two performances on Saturday, October 29th, one at 10:30 and the second at 2:30.

In February, the Philharmonic Society of Arlington, under the direction of the noted conductor Mr. Leo Litwin, will give two concerts. The music used in these concerts will be correlated with music taught in the Arlington Public schools.

In the spring, Harriet Hootor and her troupe will present an original classical ballet composed especially for Arlington young people.

This is the third series of Fine Arts Programs which have been presented in Arlington. In the past the programs were chosen especially for pupils in grade schools.

This year the committee has made a selection which will appeal greatly to high school students and all other age groups.

Old Furnace Flue Can Cause Fire, Gilman Warns

In connection with Fire Prevention Week, David Gilman, specialist in metal products, of 73 Ferry street, Malden, reported that one of the greatest threats of fire lies in the use of old furnace flue pipes.

"An old flue pipe may be the cause of a fire," he said, "which may endanger the life and safety of your family. Why risk the safety of those you love? Flue pipes should be checked immediately. Bring old pipe to our place and we shall replace it immediately with new, safe pipe."

CHARLES LAUGHTON DUE IN BOSTON

Charles Laughton, asked to describe the "one man show" which he will bring to the John Hancock Theatre in Boston on Monday evening, October 31st, shrugged his massive shoulders: "I don't like to call it 'reading', he said. "It sounds musty. I guess you might call it a 'one man guided tour' ". Laughton elaborated on this description with enthusiasm. "You live in a town all your life. You never see the really beautiful places it holds until some visitor arrives. Then suddenly you discover rivers, mountains, buildings and scenery that you have forgotten. Your visitor becomes your guide. You become the tourist. I'm the visiting guide."

The Bible, Shakespeare, Dickens all the books that tend to gather dust on the family shelves are the 'beautiful' places that Laughton shows with new eyes to the "tourists."

"On our left," says Laughton, getting into the "act" with a twinkle in his eye, "let me show you the blood and guts of 'Julius Caesar', with twice the punch and toughness of any Hollywood whodunit. Straight ahead lies the lusty comedy and melodrama of Charles Dickens. Towering above us is the greatest of all books, the Bible. To our right we have the romance of Guy de Maupassant's 'Moonlight'. That new skyscraper ahead is Thomas Wolfe."

Laughton arrives in Boston for one night only on Monday evening, October 31st, at the John Hancock Theatre.

Freedom
LIGHTED THIS LAMP

Seventy years ago Thomas Alva Edison invented the incandescent lamp — and thereby shaped for America a future that grows ever brighter through the years.

He shaped a future of opportunity. Today, more than a quarter of a million Americans are making careers in the electric light and power industry. Millions more are employed in industries that owe their very existence to electric power.

And he shaped a future of faith. The continuing miracles of electricity are tributes to the skill and ability of free individuals working and thinking in a free society.

How right it is that the Statue of Liberty, symbol of American freedom, proudly holds on high a symbol of American enterprise — a torch illuminated by electricity!

NEW SYSTEM ON HAIR REMOVAL

The Thermiquetron System of Epilation represents sixteen years of intensive research and development and is only allowed to be practiced by highly skilled and thoroughly trained operators, thus assuring complete satisfaction in all cases, even the most problematical. The distinctive quality of the Thermiquetron System and technique was achieved through constant improvements, research and the desire to perfect the System, so that it would speedily, safely and permanently remove superfluous hair and assure all suffering with this condition relief.

Accurate case histories are kept and completed cases are checked for skin condition. In all cases, patients are discouraged from using temporary methods of hair removal, such as the tweezer, razor, or depilatories, as these methods may tend to irritate and encourage the growth, especially on the face. Operators of the Thermiquetron System can remove 1600 or more hairs in an hour's treatment and even in cases of very heavy growths, the results are so rapid that the patient is relieved of the use of temporary methods while undergoing treatments by the Thermiquetron operator, thus making this the fastest possible method of permanently removing superfluous hair.

Each case of superfluous hair presents an individual problem and should be treated by a well trained and skilled operator. All Thermiquetron operators are able to recognize even the most difficult cases and apply the proper method of treatment necessary in each case. This is most important for the benefit of the patient. In all cases which an operator feels that a physician's examination and treatments are necessary, the patient is advised to consult a doctor. These cases which are in the minority, represent the glandular type, who have not resorted to a physician's care before coming to us. At all times, the welfare of the patient is of prime importance and consideration.

Arlington Visiting Nursing Ass'n Holds First Fall Meeting

The first fall meeting of the Arlington Visiting Nursing Association was held October 11th in their new quarters at 13A Medford street, with Mrs. Francis Chamberlain in the chair. The board members and nurses are much pleased with the new office which was opened July 1 when the Association was compelled, for financial reasons, to move from 5 Court street, where they had been located for many years. The Association has been indebted for a long time to the Arlington Cooperative Bank for the use of their rooms for meetings and recently to the Library for a monthly meeting place and the members expressed themselves as very grateful for these courtesies extended to them. Mrs. Andrew A. Magnus, chairman of the Housing Committee, thanked all who had been so helpful during the task of moving and equipping the new quarters.

Miss Fandel, Supervisor of Nurses, reported a total of 2900 visits made by the nurses during the summer. The President expressed appreciation of the Board for the faithful work of the nurses all through the severe heat of the summer.
Miss Fandel also reported attending a meeting on Public Health Nursing and stated that the matter of referring all patients leaving hospitals to the care of the Public Health Nurses for follow up work, was highly commendable. This is already the custom in many hospitals and has proved of great value to those being sent home from hospitals and still needing further nursing care.
Mrs. Walter R. Boone reported for the Crosby school Well Baby Clinic, an attendance during the summer of 201 babies, with 21 new registrants. Mrs. Paul J. Power reported for the Heights Clinic, an attendance of 98 babies, with 38 new registrants.

The Board accepted with regret the resignation of Mrs. Z. J. Kord as chairman of the Finance Committee and confirmed the appointment of Miss Isabel E. Hal-

Former Major League Pitcher

I DON'T KNOW of course, whether or not Joe DiMaggio will ever play any more baseball. Joe himself doesn't know, although he certainly believes that he will. I roomed with the Big Guy for three years when we both played for the New York Yankees, and I know that the Joe DiMaggio of the 1949 World Series and the Joe DiMaggio of the 1939 World Series were two different fellows.

But if big Joe sang his swan song on Sunday, October 9th, at Ebbett's Field, he can always look back to going out in a blaze of glory.
DiMag should never have been in that series. He was supposedly convalescing from a virus infection. Actually I shall always believe that Joe carried that virus infection into the series with him.

He was a sick man with a weakened and wracked body. What you saw out there on the field was merely the heart of Joe DiMaggio, loosely wrapped up in a Yankee uniform.

Twice during that series Joe Di-Maggio, once the greatest fielder of our times, slipped and fell going after a ball. In 14 times at bat, Joe collected one scratch hit. He was the Ghost of DiMaggio, merely going through the motions to hypo the Yankee morale.

Then came the final game. Possibly DiMag's final game. Jack Banta was pitching for the Dodgers and Banta hung a curve in there that was just a little too good. DiMag put the good wood to it and it soared far into the left field seats. Joe loped easily around the bases, like the DiMag of old. And 33 thousand baseball fans, the great majority of them hostile Dodger rooters, rose like puppets on a string to roar their appreciation.

There never will be another Yankee Clipper.

The Red And Gray Romp To 20-0 Win Over Brookline

By FRANK MAHONEY

The O'Brien-led Arlington team, continued its undefeated march towards the class "A" championship last Saturday by subduing the bewildered Brookline club 20-0 before some 5000 fans.

The outcome of the game was decided in the opening seconds, when the kickoff by Rindoni of Arlington was fumbled by McGoldrick of Brookline and recovered by Oppedisano of Arlington on the Brookline 17 yard line. The trio of Muello, Salisbury and O'Brien then took the ball in four separate tries over the line and Arlington led by 6-0.

The last half of the first quarter and the second quarter saw a see-saw battle with Brookline getting their nose over the fifty yard line only twice. A series of penalties in the first half cost Arlington 25 yards.

The third period saw the Arlington club come to life and start a march from their own 20 yard line all the way down the field to the Brookline 13. The feature of the attack was a 28 yard pass from Cosgrove to Oppedisano. Arlington then moved backwards for three downs and a pass from O'Brien was knocked into the arms of Rindoni, the Arlington tackle but the home club was just short of a first down.

The clock was then slowly running out and the ball was on the Brookline 45. Salisbury took the ball and smashed up to the Brookline 25. Salisbury on a hand off around right end stomped all the way to the Brookline 6 yard line.
O'Brien took the ball, saw a hole,
and the score was Arlington 12, Brookline 0. Oppedisano rushed the point.

It looked like the ball game was over when Brookline again fumbled the kickoff and Oppedisano of Arlington recovered on the Brookline 34. There was two short gains and out of the pack came Don O'Brien to run 30 yards for the final tally.
Oppedisano kicked the point, and the Arlington club came home still undefeated.

Score by periods 1 2 3 4
Arlington 6 0 0 14 20
Brookline 0 0 0 0 0
Touchdowns, O'Brien (2), Muello (1).

Winchester Lowers Boom On Stoneham 43 to 0

Winchester's Paul Amico, became a town hero and made himself eligible for the Cross country team last Saturday when the Winchester High eleven trounced the Stoneham team by the score of 34-0.

Paul Amico scored two touchdowns, the first on a buck through center and then over the line. The second and far more spectacular,
when he received the Stoneham

kickoff behind his own goal line and ran the entire length of the field.

The heavy and much more powerful Winchester club, scored their first TD on a 50 yard reverse by Pete Gilberto, while the other tallies came on a nine yard plunge by O'Brien and an eight yard pass from Jim Casey to Symmes.

Summary:
Score by periods 1 2 3 4
Winchester 7 6 14 7 34
Stoneham 0 0 0 0 0

ARLINGTON'S FINEST HELP WIN B. U. GAME

The Boston University Terriers, sparked by Harry Agganis and four of Arlington's finest swept to their third straight victory last Friday night.

Charles Kent, Brud Faulkner,
Joe Babagalo and Troy Sidder, stood out as fine examples of Arlington's many college athletes. All of these boys played a fine game and they had only one thing to say after it was all over: "It was a tough game, wonderful to win and we hope to win them all."

PIN MONEY GROUP STRIKES NEW SNAG

The Pin Money club which started off in a blaze of publicity and enthusiasm several weeks ago, has run into new snags in its efforts to expand and reward with brand new money, some of the participants who lost out in the recent Pyramid Club playoffs in the spring. Now another disillusionment faces the members and prospective members.

Attorney Frank Daniels, counsel for Leo H. Stone, Boston Traveler executive, who has been promoting the Pin Money club here in Arlington, which has drawn prospects from all parts of Greater Boston, on Friday told police officials of that he had advised Stone to "cease all operations until further notice."

This statement by Attorney Daniels to Chief of Police Archie F. Bullock and Lieutenant James J. Flynn came 24 hours after Stone, in an announcement which disappointed his Pin Money followers, had disclosed that he was "suspending" the $2 membership fee collections until October 24 and that there would be no more Pyramid Club-like house parties in the town until after that time.

Stone had engaged Chestnut Hall Arlington, for a big "payoff" party on the night of October 24 and yesterday police officials learned it has a legal capacity of but 130 persons under fire laws and regulations.

Police said that after they had told Attorney Daniels about this the attorney advised the Pin Money promoter to cease operations. Whether the club will be able to go on after a future conference which Stone and his attorney plan to have with police was a matter of conjecture from last reports.

Arlington Garden Club Visits Gore Mansion

On Monday, members of the Arlington Garden Club visited and assisted at the opening of the historic old Governor Gore mansion at Waltham.

Mrs. Norman J. Griffin, vice-president of the Eastern Middlesex regional district, was in charge of the flower decorations. Flower arrangements were made by the following members, Mrs. Arthur H. Pulsford, vice-president of the club, Mrs. John B. Proudfoot, Mrs. Frank H. Robbins, Mrs. George E. Ham, Mrs. George E. Rogers and a fruit center piece for the State Dining Room was beautifully executed by Mrs. Leroy G. Shaw.

Charmingly attired in period costume, Mrs. Norman J. Griffin, the chief hostess, greeted the guests at the entrance. Mrs. Leroy Shaw and Mrs. John J. Cox, president of the club, also in period costumes, acted as hostesses in the State Dining and Oval Rooms.

A background of bagpipe music on the terrace, the early 1800 furnishings and the beautiful antiquated costumes worn by the hostesses were only a few of the rare items of interest to be found in this lovely old brick mansion, historically famous as "the finest example of the period in the North."
